Soho House Museum is one of Birmingham's unique wedding venues creating everlasting memories...

Soho House is an elegant Georgian home with delightful gardens, making it one of Birmingham's unique and special venues – the perfect setting for your ceremony.

Soho House is a very important historic building. It was the home of Matthew Boulton, one of the greatest industrialists and entrepreneurs of his age, from 1766-1809. The House very much reflects its former owner's taste, creativity and ingenuity.

Walk through the grand porch of Soho House and go into the Entrance Hall where much of the late 18th century architecture remains intact with marble columns and alabaster cornices.

Ceremonies will take place in the original Dining Room which has come to be known as the Lunar Room. This room was once a regular meeting place for some of the greatest minds of the 18th century. The Lunar Society, an eminent group of scientists and manufacturers, regularly met in this room to dine, discuss their inventions and entertain each other with scientific experiments.

The Lunar Room contains fine furniture, historic paintings and ormolu decorative objects that will create a wonderful atmosphere for your special ceremony.

The picturesque 18th century gardens have been designed using Matthew Boulton's original plant lists. With colourful flowerbeds, lawns, unusual trees and a Hermitage, the gardens provide an ideal backdrop for photographs.
